VALUE OF MESMERISM.

Therapeutics of Hypnotism as a Medical Study.

w the Conduct of the Responsive trected by the Operator—The Most Successful of All Palm-Killers—Sugcondition.

This possibility, writes W. A. Croffut in the North American Review, is abundantly offset by the value of membersam as a therepeatic agent. The responsive can be made so intoxicuted on water, which he has been told is whisky, as to exhibit all symptoms of extreme inebriety; can be made disgustingly sea sick by being told that he is at sea in a storm, and can be at once physically affected by an imaginary medicine. His temperature can be changed, his eye dilated and his pulse quickened. Mesmerism is as perfect an angesthetic as ether, and as perfect an angesthetic as ether, and as harmless as water. Any mesmerized per-son can at once, by a single stroke of the hand, be rendered totally insensible to pain, and can have a tooth drawn, a cataract removed, a cancer cut out, or an arm cut off without feeling the slightest pain. This has been so often demonstrated that ampu-tations frequently take place under its in-fluence in the Paris hospitals, and it is suc-cessfully employed in obstetrics. Though only a fraction of patients will be found eligible as candidates for this annihilator of rain its utility is an obvious it can not be pain, its utility is so obvious it can not be long before medical societies will take up the therapeusis of mesmerism as a serious study, and army surgeons will be required to have as practical a knowledge of it as of any part of the pharmacopeeis.

It is quite erroneous to suppose that the conduct of the responsive is directed in detail by the operator. He only suggests the general line of thought, and each responsive pursues it according to his own knowledge, experience or prejudices. I say to my re-sponsives, for instance, that I have a won-derful educated cow with seven heads. They all want to see it. I call their atten-

Then I tell them that she can dance, can waltz and keep time with music. I hand one a cane, telling him it is a flute, and that one a cane, telling him it is a flute, and that he is an emigent performer, and he goes through the motions of playing to the dancing cow. They hear different tunes, but the exhibition is satisfactory. I now add that the cow can sing—can sing a different part with each mouth—can sing seven ballads at once. At this point there is some incredulity expressed. They see the cow stand up on her hind legs and hear the seven ballads—and this, I may se well add, is the narrative of an actual experiment.

Five of the six mesmerized persons believed that she sang. "She is singing "It Willow,'" said one. And "A Warrior Bold,'" said another.

"I hear singing," said the incredulous one, turning to me. "Annie Laurie,' isn't it! How do you work her—the machinery, I mean!"

Inema?"

The others laughed at him. "Why, the cow sings," said a young lady. "Can't you hear her sing? Can't you see ner sing?"

"She looks as if she sang," conceded Incredulous. "I can see her mouths move all second of the sang." around. She sounds as if she sang; but she doesn't sing. Cows don't sing."
"Very well, what is it, then," asked one of the others.

sisted the scoffer, obstinately. Moses or Confucius is introduced and interviewed, the intelligent responsive furnishing both questions and answers in a curious dual action of the mind that is highly enter-

A young lady, one of the brightest sensitives I have ever seen, steadfastly refuses to play cards. I tell her she is Buffalo Bill, and easily induce her to assume his character, but when cards are suggested: "No, I never play cards. It is wrong!" she says, and I can not move her. I could make her jump out through the window, or put her hands in the fire, but play cards she will not. I was puzzled by it till, inquiring, I ascertamed that her religious parents had brought her up very strictly and taught her it was "wicked to play cards."

And this brings us to the question much

And this brings us to the question much brought into relation not only with medicine but with jurisprudence; not only with the pharmacopæa, but the penitentiary. It is obvious that if cases of this kind occur the obvious that if cases of this kind occur the one to whom punishment must be dealt out is the mesmerist.

I could probably induce any one of my responsives to take his life in my presence or to assault any body within reach, but the mind wanders curiously in this strange condition, and generally takes little cognizance of surrounding objects. I have used the word "probably" in this sentence because the conduct of mesmerized persons can not be positively predicted. The mental impression may not in a given case be sufficiently vivid and dominating to induce action, or the intention may be counteracted by the trained moral sense asserting itself and overbalancing the confused hypnotic tendency.

Exercise is a good thing, but it is

Where It Pinches.

The milk in the cocoanut of the the demand for the election of the Democratic party, by suppressing lyn. the colored vote and manipulating the slum wards in the big cities and distant precincts in certain States, have rolled up an apparent popular majority against every Republican President except Grant on his second election. Lincoln's first vote was greater than any other one candidate, but was a million less than a majority. His second vote was with the whole South left out. At Grant's first election Mississippi, Texas and West Virginia were not reconstructed, and had no vote. His second vote resulted in a great majority over Greely. Hayes was a quarter of a million behind Tilden. Garfield beat Hancock nearly four thousand votes, but was over three hundred thousand short of a majority of the whole vote. Cleveland was over twenty-six thousand ahead of Blaine, but had four hundred thousand less than half the vote. Mr. Harrison gets the majority of the electoral votes but not of the popular vote, and it makes the Democractic party feel sore. They will have to let the colored man cast his vote without restraint before they can ever induce the great North and the greater West to change the Constitution.

In Pennsylvania the law fixes four rates of taxation for sale of liquors at retail, viz: $500 for large cities, $300 for small cities, $150 for villages or boroughs, as chartered towns are called in that State, and $75 for rural townships in which there are no chartered boroughs Under this law during the past year the licenses of the whole State has fallen from 14,558 to 7,724, and the money received from licenses has risen from $976,-179 to $1,835,968 In Philadelphia there are only about one-fourth as many saloons as when the new law went into force.

The president of the company has been here and met Mis. Friend, the Howards and Halsteads, all of whom live at Milan, in this State. Mrs. Friend's attorney says there was no intentional fraud, but says there was no intentional fraud, but that the company expected more than was promised. She says the company was to furnish money to equip the rafinery for refining sugar by K.iend's "secret process." The company alleges that the refining was to to done from sugar cane; this she cannot do. The contract her husband made was to refine sugar at 80 cents possible to the stock and secret for $250.00 after everything was running. The company has been running five years and has put in over $300,000, but no sugar has been refined for market. Mrs. Friend says the company is trying to force from her another secret, by which she makes a superior article of sugar from grapes, instead of getting the secret their contract calls for. sharp-eyed, brainy old lady, with a determination not to give away what she knows, further than to say that if the New Yorkers have broken open the electric sugar refinery they have lost all their rights, and that it would have been well if the process had been lost when Friend died last March. Also that she is sure Howard and Mrs. Friend are able to take care of themelves. Since the opening of the sugar usiness, the Howards and Friends business, the Howards and Friends have cut quite a swath here, building elegant houses and living as gentlemenly farmers, with princely incomes from some source not generally understood, but not without a taint of suspicion. Crucago, Jan. 5.—Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Loxomotive Engineers arrived here this morning, and was in conference with Chairman conference with Chairman on the wild native all worm of Cavenor and other members of the st ike reached last night. The agree-ment made was approved by Arthur. Both sides refuse to give out the terms of settlement until it has been sent to the various Lodges. Cavenor says it will be made known Monday or Tues-day. After the committee had taken its departure a reporter was granted an audience with Arthur. He was an audience with Arthur. He was very reticent.

"Is your presence in Chicago due in any way to the 'Q' strike?"

"No." replied Arthur; "I am simply passing through the city on my way to California."

"You are acquainted with the terms of the agreement entered into?"

"Yes, sir; and I am exceedingly well pleased with them. The committee has done its work faithfully and well. The terms are such that they all meet with the approval of every all meet with the approval of every Brotherhood man throughout the coun-What were the terms of agree

The terms will not be made public before the middle of next week. It is safe to say, however, that it was far from an unconditional surrender of the Brotherhood; that several items of importance to the order were conceded by the officials."

"Are you going to California on bus-iness or merely for pleasure?"

asked.

"Yes, I leave this afternoon for Cleveland, Ohio."

"What is the nature of your business in Cleveland?"

At this question Mr. Cavener smiled and said: "It is simply a private mission, the nature of which would not in any way inferest the public."

Nothwithstanding Cavener's assertion that his mission to Cleveland is a private one, it is a fact that in his pocket he carries with him the terms of the agreement with the "Q" officials and will lay them before the Executive Board in person. This done, his labors in connection with the great "Q" strike are at an end, Street man asking him for 10 shares and offering him $10 each for them. Robinson told the man that the shares were worthless, but the man insisted, and a sale was effected. The purchase was for the purpose, it is said, of squeezing Howard when caught. Howard is the man who swore before a notary public that he had seen the professor refine raw sugar by electricity." It is now hinted that friend is not dead at all; there has not been anybody found so far who has seen his corpse. His death is said to have occurred two days before the blizzard of last March.

MILAN, Mich., Jan. 5. — Friend's elegant home, a half mile east from the house of W. E. Howard, Mrs. Howard was found just setting out to join her husband and daughter (Mrs. Friend) at Ann Harbor. SENATE. Sherman treated the objection to the form of his resolution as more technical than important, but was willing to have the resolution made a con-current instead of a joint resolution, although he thought the latter a better form, as binding the three branches of government. He would like to see all nations of the world (but not governments) co-operate in the work of the Panama Canal. After a further discussion, the resolution went over to Monday, and the tariff bill was taken

The Nugar Tariff. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.- The sub-committee of the Senate Finance Com-mittee gave a hearing to a delegation nterested in the sugar industry in Louisiana. Dymond, who was the speaker, explained that the delegation came to ask that the sugar schedule, as prepared by the Senate Tariff bill, be modified, on the ground that a 50 per cent. reduction in the duty on sugar would ruin the sugar industry, not only in the tropical cane of Louisiana, but also of the beet sugar industry of Kanass. The comunities took a recess until half-past 4 this atternoon, when it will bear an argument from W. L. Parkinson of Fort Scott, Kan, who will appear in behalf of the sorghum industry of Kanass. na. Celebrated Will Case.
Boston, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court has given a decision affirming the decree of a single Justice in the case of William Dexter, executor of the will of John Amery Codman, against Marthe Codman and others. This is the celebrated Codman will case, which has been pending so long before the Courts, and which has been the sub-Courts, and which has been the subject of great public interest. Codman, in his will, left a great part of his large estate to Mrs. Eliza H. Kimball, the "Violet" of Codman's amatory letters, which were made public in the case. Judge Holmes sustained the decree of Judge Charles Allen, who refused to set aside the verdict of the jury, which found that the will of Codman was executed under under indus influence on the part of Mrs. Kimball.

He predicts, by continuing the study, that "it will not be many years becore this discovery of the mine of the native silk worm will be the greatest blessing ever conferred upon the people of the whole civilized world."

> The Sugar Toriff. Washington, Jan. 5. - Claus Spieckles will arrive in Washington today. The California Congressmen says his coming has nothing to do with the question of the sugar schedule in the Senate tariff bill. They say he wants to talk with the Commissioner of Agriculture about beet raising and beet sagar in this country. The Finance Committee is somewhat annoved to learn that a big delegation of Californis people, engaged in sugar raising, are or their way East to see that the proposed bounty legislation is enacted. The committee has heard all the testimony they can for on the all the testimony they care for on the sugar question.

> > The Woman is Right.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5 .- A man named Charest went to California eighteen years ago to seek his fortune, and after some time the news reached his wife that he was dead. She married again and her second husband was killed by an accident, and she then married a third husband. A short time since, the first husband appeared with $33,000, and wished to live with his wife, but she declined. The case will likely with it, as Mrs. Arthur accompanies come before the courts.

A PROFITABLE PLANT.

sno (Cal.) Re ins the following: The Dalm sect powder, being the California eparation of a plant known as bubach, retails at $1 per pound. It seems to be rising continually in price, and its cultivation is giving large re-turns to those engaged therein. The turns to those engaged therein. The process of curing and powdering is comparatively inexpensive, and we wonder that our farmers have allowed this paying industry to escape their notice so long. At Stockton most of the buhach grown in California has been prepared for market, and its production and preparation appears to have been in the hands of a few people. The plant is said to thrive well in nearly all parts of the State, in any soil that brings vegetables to perfection. The demand for insect powder is as wide as the world. Wherever pestiferous insects abound—and they are everywhere—this powder will sconer or later find its way. Here is an opening for some one to atart a new industry in Fresno county that will certainly pay.

TWO MILLION BOYS WANTED. Are You Furnishing Your Pul

QuotaT An exchange says: "The saloon ust have boys, or it must shut up shop. Can't you furnish it one? It is a great foctory, and unless it can get about 2,000,000 boys from each generation for raw material, some of these factories must close out and its operatives must be thrown on a cold world, and the public revenue will dwindle. 'Wanted—2,000,000 boys?' Is the notice: One family out of every five must contribute a boy to keep up the supply. Will you help? Which of your boys will it be? The minotaur of Crete had to have a trireme full of fair maidens each year; but the minotaur of America demands a city-full of boys each year. Are you a father? Have you given your share to keep up the supply for this great public institution that is helping to pay your taxes and kindly electing public officials for you? Have you contributed a boy? If not, some other family has had to give more than its share. Are you not selfish, voting to keep the saloon open to grind up boys, and then doing nothing to keep up the supply?" about 2,000,000 boys from each genera-

MURDER OR SUICIDE !

Burned to a Crisp, With a Bullet

Hole in the Temple. accounts reached this city yesterday of the death of J. C. Colgan, a wellknown resident of Esmeralda county, and formerly of Eureka.

Early on the morning of the 2d inst. the house in which Mr. Colgan lived was discovered to be on fire. Nothing could be done to save it from burning and it was consumed. Mr. Colgan, the tenant, being missed, a search was made for him in the ruins, and the body was found, burned to a crisp.
An examination of the skull revealed a bullet hole over the temple.
Mr. Colgan was a married man, and his widow is now in San Francisco, having left Candelaria but a few weeks ago. It is not known whether it is a case of murder or suicide, but the latter is surmised.

on Blank in Search of "the Right Man for Our Church. From the "Open Letter" by Forrest F.

"In proof of the singular demands sometimes made upon the minister, not only for needful qualifications not looked for in other professions, but also for those which do not be Christian Church at Helena, M professions, but also for those which do not really form a part of the clergyman's necessary outfit for his work, I offer for perusal a letter written less than five years ago by a member of a church in one of the largest and oldest and—will it be believed!—most cultured of our American cities. It was written by one layman to another. The writer was a member of the "supply committee" appointed to "look for the right man" as pastor, and the epistle is one of inquiry into the fitness of a certain minister who had been recommended to him for the position. Leaving out dates and proper names and a single sentence, which might furnish a clue to identification, I give the letter verbatins, without correction of rhetoric, grammar, italies or punctuation: oric, grammar, italies or punctuation:

OLD STYLE COURTSHIP. How Virginia Gentlemen Won Their Bride a Century Ago.

As an illustration of the stately courtesy and somewhat grandiloquent style of our grandfathers, the Norfolk Virginian publishes the annexed letters, one from Mr. John Wise, the father of the late Gen. Henry A. Wise, written to Gen. John Cooper, seeking permission to address his daughter, and the other Gen. Cooper's re-ply. In Mr. Wise's letter he says: "Feeling myself irresistibly impelled by

"Feeling myself irresistibly impelled by inclination, and prompted by a sense of propriety, I have presumed now to address you upon a subject of importance and delicacy. Having conceived an affection for your daughter (Miss Sally), I beg leave to solicit your permission to make address to her, and at the same time let me express the best bet of the control of the the hope that should I be so fortunate as to succeed in gaining her affections, my first wishes may not be frustrated by your disapprobation. I have thought proper to make this application to you on the subject in this manner, rather than in person, because my character—if I have acquired any—my condition, and my situation in life are not altogether unknown to you, and if objecattogether unknown to you, and if objections are to be made they can be more freely communicated in this than any other way. I have heretofore proceeded no further with the lady than merely to obtain her permission to make this application; and, sir, I now pledge you the honor of a gentleman that in case you have objection of an insuparable nature to the processed union, what. that in case you have objection of an insuperable nature to the proposed union, whatever may be the chagrin, regret and mortification which I may feel on the occasion, I will not disturb the quiet of a parent extremely solicitous, no doubt, for the happiness of a beloved daughter by persisting any further with her."

Gen. Cooper responded, saying:
"Although the application made by your letter of this day was unexpected, yet my eflections heretofore on the subject have prepared me to answer that, however solicitous I may be for the temporal felicity and future respectability of my daughter, she is the only proper judge of the person best calculated to make her happy. Respect and impartiality ought to be shown by me to you or any other gentleman that might make his address to my daughter, and I confide in your candor and judgment."

There is in possession of the Heitshue family of Lancaster, Pa., an edition of the Bible, in three folio volumes, on the lid of the first volume of which, in large gilt letters, is this inscription:

THE GIFT The Rt. Hon'ble LADY JULIANA PENN THE JULIANA LIBRARY,

Juliana Penn was the wife of Thomas Penn, William Penn's son, who was one of the proprie ors of Pennsylvania in 1770, the date of the publication of this copy of the Bible. The Juliana Library was the third public library to be founded in America, it haying been chartered in 1763. It was named in honor of Lady Pens, who was a daughter of the Earl of Pomfret, and she recognized the fact by presenting the Bible to the library. The volumes are eleven recognized the fact by presenting the Bible to the library. The volumes are eleven inches by seventeen and a half inches in size. As specimens of the binder's art these books are magnificent. They are bound in full Russia leather, and are adorned by elaborate hand-tooling on the backs and outside and inner margins of the covera. The edition was printed in London and contains the famous Commentarics by William Dodd, ILLD., "Prebendary of Brecon and Chaplain in Ordinary to His Majesty," who was executed for forgery in 1777.

The books and property of the Juliana Library were sold by auction in 1843 to satisfy claims against it, and the three volumes were purchased by William Heitshue. Among other valuable relies of this ancient library is the copperplate of Thomas Penn, engraved in 1731 by Martin, one of the pioneer copper-plate engravers of this country, the drawing of the portrait being by an artist named Davis. This plate is in the possession of John P. Schaum, who refuses all offers to permit impressions to be taken from it, fearing that it may be lost or injured.
